An honest and reliable guy Mar 15, This is the first experience I have had with a mechanic where I feel totally confident in his ability to get the job done correctly and in a timely manner. He always takes the time to explain things, also if it doesn't need to be fixed right away i. I didn't answer to how they respond when they screw up because it has never happened. He is open on Saturdays when a lot of other shops aren't, also one time when I really needed a car he loaned me his own! I asked him if he would be interested in working on the car, he was new in business probably the only reason he agreed to do it. He took the time to learn about my X5 and I have never used another mechanic. He checks everything, lets you know WHY something needs to be done or not and is very careful and patient about explaining things. He is an excellent mechanic. He knows SAABs inside and out and is honest and always gets work done in a timely manner. I highly recommend him to anyone looking for excellent SAAB service and repair. Although attractive, suede is difficult to clean and can be discolored by water and other liquids. Check with your manufacturer to discover if your car seats are genuine suede before attempting to clean. Brush you car seat thoroughly with a suede brush. Brush the suede from top to bottom, left to right, bottom to top, and right to left to remove embedded dirt. Continue brushing over the entire car seat surface in a circular motion to fluff up the nap. Remove marks or stains from your seat using gentle swirling motions with the top of the eraser over the mark. The eraser crumbles as it lifts stains, which provides a clean eraser surface as you work across the seat. Brush the seat again with the suede brush, in the method detailed in Step 2. Remove all particles from the eraser when brushing and repeat as needed. Clean liquid spills on your car seat by blotting them up immediately with a soft cloth. Do not press deeply into the suede or rub as you may further push the stain into the seat. Allow the area to dry thoroughly and examine for discoloration. Remove any remaining stain with the eraser if one is left behind; brush the car seat thoroughly afterward. Abaigeal Quinn works as an international entertainment broker in the United States. She is a former news editor and insurance agent who began writing for a daily newspaper in Step 1 Brush you car seat thoroughly with a suede brush. Step 5 Brush the seat again with the suede brush, in the method detailed in Step 2. Step 6 Clean liquid spills on your car seat by blotting them up immediately with a soft cloth. It is recommended to use a spray suede protectant on your car seats to help guard them from stains and make unexpected soiling easier to clean. These sprays create a barrier over the suede and may be purchased in sporting good stores and fine shoe stores. Some recommend cleaning tough stains with a vinegar-dampened cotton ball dabbed over the stain. Please note this often leaves behind an odor afterward and may stiffen the nap. Saab produced automobiles from until when the automobile division was spun off as Saab Automobile , a joint venture with General Motors. The joint venture ended in when GM took complete ownership. Between and the company was in a merger with commercial vehicle manufacturer Scania-Vabis , known as Saab-Scania. The two were de-merged in by the new owners, Investor AB. Despite the demerger , both Saab and Scania share the right to use the griffin logo, [2] which originates from the coat of arms of the Swedish region of Scania. The basic initial development was the problems for the Swedish government to get quality military aircraft delivered at the beginning of the Second World War. The final trigger was the inability to get a large number of Seversky P delivered from the United States. From then on the Swedish government focused on establishing domestic production and development of military aircraft and Saab took that challenge. A policy that has continued to this day. Originally manufacturing aircraft, the company sought ways in which to diversify its business. The US car manufacturers have been producing tanks during the war and the US domestic market took all the US car production in the late s. So there was a huge supply need of private cars in Europe and Sweden. Buyers were facing waiting lists of years on new cars. The first car was the Saab 92 , full-scale production started 12 December , based on the prototype Ursaab. In the late s Saab ventured into the computer market with Datasaab. During the s several computers were developed and sold to European countries, for uses such as banking. The aircraft computer CK 37 was used in in the Viggen. In May , the company name was changed to Saab AB to reflect its broad range of

Its products include airplanes, missiles, electronics, and computers. Saab was incorporated in as Svenska Aeroplan Aktiebolaget. The company was engaged primarily in the production of aircraft until the mids, when it began manufacturing automobiles. In its name was changed to Saab Aktiebolag AB. The company was best known for its manufacture of Saab automobiles and Scania trucks and buses, which were exported throughout the world. It also manufactured Scania diesel engines for marine and industrial use, and other products included missiles, aviation electronics, computer systems, medical equipment, control and instrument systems, and power-plant equipment, including valves, boilers, and pipe systems. The measure included emergency loans, credit guarantees, and money for research and development. In February Saab Automobile filed for protection from creditors and began restructuring in the wake of the announcement that financially troubled General Motors planned to cut its ties to Saab. However, Saab Automobile continued to struggle, and various efforts to secure additional financing failed. In December the company filed for bankruptcy. Print Cite verified Cite.
